Dear Chief Judge Stewart:

We, the undersigned, are the executive director of Fix the Court, the president of the Dallas-Fort Worth Association of Black Journalists, and the executive of the Radio Television Digital News Association, respectively.

We write today to urge the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit to livestream the audio of 19-10010, Texas et al v. United States et al., to be argued at 1:00 p.m. on July 9.

We are greatly appreciative of the Fifth Circuit's same-day audio policy but believe that the public's significant interest in the issues presented in this case, as well as the importance of transparency and public access, merit live audio here. We hope the Fifth Circuit joins other circuits in providing live-audio access for cases of national import.

Thank you for considering this request.

Sincerely,
Cheryl Smith

The Dallas-Fort Worth Association of Black Journalists is an affiliate of National Association of Black Journalists, the largest organization for journalists of color in the nation, which provides career development as well as educational and other support to its members worldwide.

Fix the Court is a national, nonpartisan organization that advocates for non-ideological reforms that would make the federal courts, and primarily the U.S. Supreme Court, more open and accountable to the American people.

The Radio Television Digital News Association is the world's largest professional organization devoted exclusively to broadcast and digital journalism. Founded as a grassroots organization in 1946, RTDNA's mission is to promote and protect responsible journalism. RTDNA defends the First Amendment rights of electronic journalists throughout the country, honors outstanding work in the profession through the Edward R. Murrow Awards and provides members with training to encourage ethical standards, newsroom leadership and industry innovation.
