Hi Kat,

I hope you are doing well. Attached is the Dean's Summit Invite that the UW Law School would like to send out to our Benchers Society. I will share this with the PIO office but I just wanted to make sure you had eyes on it as well.

Just as a reminder, my staff and I are anxiously awaiting on getting an answer on the items below. All other items of the Justice's visit can wait for a more convenient time but the items below need answer as soon as possible so we can build registration systems, sign contracts, etc. If you and the Justice could review these two items and get back to me as soon as possible that would be great.

1. Justice Kagan will participate in lecture/one-on-one discussion for the Law School community on Friday, September 8th at 4pm. We have secured Union Theater located at the heart of the UW campus and just one block from the Law School. We would give first priority to our students, faculty, and alumni to the event. After a specific time, we will open up the event to the public. This event will be free and last from 60-90 minutes, whatever the Justice prefers and the time does not need to be settled on now. All we need to know if she is ok with us moving forward with planning this type of event.
2. Cocktail Reception and/or Dinner following the lecture/discussion at a downtown location. The dinner will be for alumni and faculty where a small fee will be required to cover some of the costs of the dinner. The Law School will not make any money on this dinner and will not be using it as a fundraising event. We would make sure to schedule a break between the lecture and dinner. If the Justice would be willing to a 10-15 speak at the event, we would greatly appreciate it.

Thank you for your time. I realize you are extremely busy and appreciate your help and work on this.

Best,

Jini

Dear Benchers' and Legacy Society Members,

Please join me on September 8 and 9 for the Dean's Summit, our annual gathering for the Law School's most loyal supporters. This event has become one of my favorites: it's my chance to show how your contributions make a difference in our students' lives, discuss the challenges and opportunities on our horizon, and celebrate the proud customs of our past.

We'll start Friday at the Law School, where we'll meet with students, faculty, and staff; enjoy a Q & A session with a very special guest, Associate Justice Elena Kagan of the Supreme Court of the United States; and wrap up with a reception and dinner. On Saturday, we'll tailgate at the Law School, before we head to Camp Randall Stadium to cheer on the Badgers in their match against Florida Atlantic. Tickets for the special lecture and game will be available when you register for the Dean's Summit.

I hope you can make it. It would be my honor to host you.

As always, thank you for your support.

Warm regards,

Margaret Raymond

Subject: FW: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

MEDIA: Do you propose opening any part of the event to press coverage, and if so, is this your usual practice? If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other arrangement).

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS PLANS: Does the University propose any video, photography, or coverage for its own use? If so, please provide details and proposed uses.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Best regards,

Angela

Subject: Save the Date: Supreme Court Justice Elena Kagan to visit UW Law School on September 8th

Dear colleagues,

It is my distinct pleasure to let you know that the Honorable Elena Kagan, associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, will be visiting the UW Law School on Friday, September 8th.

We are honored to host the Justice and we are working with the Court to confirm the details of the visit. We will share those details as we are able but in the meantime, please mark your calendars and watch your email for further information about what events will occur and how you can take part.

Thank you for your attention. Hosting such a special guest is a very exciting way to begin the school year.

Press Proposal for UW Law School's Kastenmeier Lecture
Associate Justice Elena Kagen
Supreme Court of the United States
September 8, 2017

To extend the reach of our special programming, UW Law School leverages media support from campus and local partners. Making Law School expertise and resources available to all is part of our mission through the Wisconsin Idea, the university's statewide commitment to improving the lives of citizens beyond the classroom.

Our press plan includes:

Prior to event

- Inviting campus and local newspaper, radio, and other press agencies
- Distributing press release through campus communications
- Promoting event through social media

Day of event

- Live streaming lecture for off-site viewing
- In partnership with Wisconsin Public Television, recording video for the University Place channel. (University Place is WPT's "virtual lecture hall." It televises public talks and other educational presentations as a service to Wisconsin residents. Lectures appearing on University Place repeat occasionally and are also made available on WPT's website for on-demand viewing.)
- In partnership with Wisconsin Eye, recording video for their public access channel.
- Sharing highlights of the event through social media
- Before or after lecture, hosting speaker question-and-answer session with local press
- Allowing photography, according to speaker's preferences

After the event

- Posting video for online viewing, and keeping DVD copies for the Law School's archives
- Writing news article for print and web
- Promoting news accounts through social media
- Televising lecture on University Place and/or Wisconsin Eye

Date: Monday, August 7, 2017 10:34:16 AM

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

MEDIA: Do you propose opening any part of the event to press coverage, and if so, is this your usual practice? If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other arrangement).

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS PLANS: Does the University propose any video, photography, or coverage for its own use? If so, please provide details and proposed uses.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Hello,

Attached is a draft of the invite the UW Law School would like to send to tour Benchers Society, a special group of alumni and friends regarding the Dean's Summit. This event is a weekend long event where we invite this group to campus to meet with faculty, staff and students. This event is taking place at the same time Justice Kagan's visit to the University of Wisconsin and we would like to reference that visit in the invite.

Kathryne Lindsey referred me to the PIO office for all press, media, print and digital items that pertain to this visit. If there is a specific contact I should use moving forward on this matter, please let me know.

We are very excited for this visit and are willing to make any change or adjustments necessary. Please feel free to share your feedback and requests.

Hi all,

We have a couple of things we would love some guidance on –

- An email stating approval for WPT and Wisconsin Eye to record the 4pm lecture with the Justice. If you could indicate whether we can stream the event or record it to be release afterwards that would be great. We are comfortable with either option the Court approves.
- Confirmation of the media plan to ensure that we are giving the press attending the public lecture all the necessary rules and restrictions. (Sent 8/8/17, attached again)
- We would like to have an approved bio of the Justice. We are working on a program for the lecture. A draft of that piece will coming your way soon as well.
- Confirmation on whether we are allowed to invite the WI Supreme Court and the Western District of WI Court to the dinner on September 8th. If they attend, they will pay the fee and we can make sure none of the judges or justices are seated with Justice Kagan.
- Review and approval of press release (See attached.)

Items we are working on

- We should have the questions to the Justice and the staff for the lecture very shortly. We are making some small edits and should have that to you soon.
- Program for the lecture on the 8th.

Thank you for your time and attention. If you need anything or have any questions or concerns, please feel free to reach out.

Justice Elena Kagan to speak at UW-Madison

Associate Justice Elena Kagan of the U.S. Supreme Court will appear on the University of Wisconsin-Madison campus Friday, September 8, to share insights on her life in the law.

Her visit is sponsored by UW Law School and its dean, Margaret Raymond.

Kagan was nominated to the Supreme Court by President Barack Obama in 2010. Following her Senate confirmation, she became the fourth woman to sit on the nation's high court.

The previous year, Obama had appointed her as his solicitor general; she remains the only woman to have held that position. She also served the Clinton White House as associate counsel and policy adviser.

Kagan was Harvard Law School's dean from 2003 to 2009. She is herself a Harvard Law graduate, who went on to clerk for Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall and Judge Abner Mikva of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit.

"The opportunity to hear Justice Kagan discuss her experiences on the bench, her judicial philosophy, and her commitment to upholding the rule of law is one our students will never forget," says Raymond. "I'm honored to have her as the guest of our Law School."

Raymond will lead the question-and-answer presentation, scheduled for 4 p.m in the Memorial Union's Shannon Hall. A limited number of tickets are available to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration is required [\[link\]](#).

Press Proposal for UW Law School's Kastenmeier Lecture
Associate Justice Elena Kagen
Supreme Court of the United States
September 8, 2017

To extend the reach of our special programming, UW Law School leverages media support from campus and local partners. Making Law School expertise and resources available to all is part of our mission through the Wisconsin Idea, the university's statewide commitment to improving the lives of citizens beyond the classroom.

Our press plan includes:

Prior to event

- Inviting campus and local newspaper, radio, and other press agencies
- Distributing press release through campus communications
- Promoting event through social media

Day of event

- Live streaming lecture for off-site viewing
- In partnership with Wisconsin Public Television, recording video for the University Place channel. (University Place is WPT's "virtual lecture hall." It televises public talks and other educational presentations as a service to Wisconsin residents. Lectures appearing on University Place repeat occasionally and are also made available on WPT's website for on-demand viewing.)
- In partnership with Wisconsin Eye, recording video for their public access channel.
- Sharing highlights of the event through social media
- Before or after lecture, hosting speaker question-and-answer session with local press
- Allowing photography, according to speaker's preferences

After the event

- Posting video for online viewing, and keeping DVD copies for the Law School's archives
- Writing news article for print and web
- Promoting news accounts through social media
- Televising lecture on University Place and/or Wisconsin Eye

Subject: FW: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

MEDIA: Do you propose opening any part of the event to press coverage, and if so, is this your usual practice? If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other arrangement).

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS PLANS: Does the University propose any video, photography, or coverage for its own use? If so, please provide details and proposed uses.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Best regards,
Angela

Hello,

I'm just following up because we would like to get this invite to printer as soon as possible. Justice Kagan's assistant has approved the lecture style event. The dinner is what we are waiting on confirmation from the Justice and the PIO. However, the invite attached does not mention having the Justice at the dinner nor a charge. If we could get this approved that would be great. That way we can have them ready to send out as soon as possible.

Dear colleagues,

It is my distinct pleasure to let you know that the Honorable Elena Kagan, associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, will be visiting the UW Law School on Friday, September 8th.

We are honored to host the Justice and we are working with the Court to confirm the details of the visit. We will share those details as we are able but in the meantime, please mark your calendars and watch your email for further information about what events will occur and how you can take part.

Thank you for your attention. Hosting such a special guest is a very exciting way to begin the school year.

With warm regards,

Dean Margaret Raymond

Dear Kat,

It took some sleuthing, but we are assured that the 9/1 game will be an evening game. No kickoff time set yet, but if the Justice were willing (and wanted a long day), we could do her program during the day on the 1st and she could attend the game afterwards. If she'd prefer a less grueling schedule, we'd be delighted to have her arrive on 8/31, perhaps do an evening program and an informal morning event for students on 9/1, and then give her a break before the game.

What I'm trying to say is that we'd be happy to accommodate whatever would be most convenient for her. Let me know what you think that would be and we'll go from here.

Many thanks!

Margaret

Dear Kat,

Thanks so much for following up. Friday 9/1/17 would work beautifully for us. I do want to make sure the Justice knows that it's Labor Day weekend. That is not a problem for the Law School, but I want to make sure she knows she's giving us a holiday weekend. And you're quite right that 9/15 is not a home game. (9/1 will be, quite honestly, a home game with an unimpressive opponent, but Big Ten football is fun regardless.)

If this still works, let me know. I'm copying Jini Jasti, my Associate Dean, who will be our liaison on the visit.

Many thanks! We're excited about this visit and delighted that we may be able to find a date that works.

Dear Dean Raymond,

Thank you so much for your patience. We're ready to schedule Justice Kagan's visit next fall. I'd like to propose Friday 9/1 or Friday 9/15 for her visit. The Justice would ideally fly in the evening before, spend the next day visiting campus, attend a football game on Saturday, and return to DC either Saturday or Sunday (depending on flights). I don't see a home game listed below for Saturday 9/16 so I assume they are away that week. If that's the case, would you like to schedule on Friday 9/1?

Dear Kat,

I wanted to follow up with you about finding a date in fall 2017 for Justice Kagan to visit our law school.

As she noted in her email, she's interested in coming for a football game. So I think that means she'd do visit here on a Friday, and stay for Saturday football. Our home game dates for fall 2017 are below. Some of the dates conflict with the Jewish holidays, so we thought either Sept. 8-9 or October 20-21, if they suit her schedule, might be best. If not, let's touch base and see if any of the other dates might work. I offered basketball, but she quite sensibly prefers not to travel to Wisconsin in February!

Let me know if there's more you need from me. Many thanks, in advance, for your help.

Yours truly,

Margaret Raymond

The fall football dates for 2017 are below –

- September 2nd /Utah State
 - Labor Day is the 4th
- September 9th /Florida Atlantic
- September 30th /Northwestern
 - Yom Kippur
- October 14th /Purdue
 - Shmini Atzeret is the 12th
 - Simchat Torah is the 13th
- October 21st /Maryland
 - Most likely going to be Homecoming but not confirmed.

Subject: RE: Following up on dates for a visit

Dear Kat,

Thanks so much for following up. Friday 9/1/17 would work beautifully for us. I do want to make sure the Justice knows that it's Labor Day weekend. That is not a problem for the Law School, but I want to make sure she knows she's giving us a holiday weekend. And you're quite right that 9/15 is not a home game. (9/1 will be, quite honestly, a home game with an unimpressive opponent, but Big Ten football is fun regardless.)

If this still works, let me know. I'm copying Jini Jasti, my Associate Dean, who will be our liaison on the visit.

Many thanks! We're excited about this visit and delighted that we may be able to find a date that works.

My best,

Margaret Raymond

Dear Dean Raymond,

Thank you so much for your patience. We're ready to schedule Justice Kagan's visit next fall. I'd like to propose Friday 9/1 or Friday 9/15 for her visit. The Justice would ideally fly in the evening before, spend the next day visiting campus, attend a football game on Saturday, and return to DC either Saturday or Sunday (depending on flights). I don't see a home game listed below for Saturday 9/16 so I assume they are away that week. If that's the case, would you like to schedule on Friday 9/1? Please feel free to call me in Chambers to discuss. I can be reached at [REDACTED]

Dear Kat,

I wanted to follow up with you about finding a date in fall 2017 for Justice Kagan to visit our law school.

As she noted in her email, she's interested in coming for a football game. So I think that means she'd do visit here on a Friday, and stay for Saturday football. Our home game dates for fall 2017 are below. Some of the dates conflict with the Jewish holidays, so we thought either Sept. 8-9 or October 20-21, if they suit her schedule, might be best. If not, let's touch base and see if any of the other dates might work. I offered basketball, but she quite sensibly prefers not to travel to Wisconsin in February!

Let me know if there's more you need from me. Many thanks, in advance, for your help.

Yours truly,
Margaret Raymond

The fall football dates for 2017 are below –

- September 2nd /Utah State
 - Labor Day is the 4th
- September 9th /Florida Atlantic
- September 30th /Northwestern
 - Yom Kippur

- October 14th/Purdue
 - Shmini Atzeret is the 12th
 - Simchat Torah is the 13th
- October 21st/Maryland
 - Most likely going to be Homecoming but not confirmed.

Also, just so you know, we're looking to schedule on either Friday 9/1 (arriving on Thursday 8/31) or Friday 9/8 (attending the football game on Saturday 9/9). It's all going to depend on Justice Kagan's teaching schedule at HLS which I'm also working on right now.
Thanks!

Dear Kat,

It took some sleuthing, but we are assured that the 9/1 game will be an evening game. No kickoff time set yet, but if the Justice were willing (and wanted a long day), we could do her program during the day on the 1st and she could attend the game afterwards. If she'd prefer a less grueling schedule, we'd be delighted to have her arrive on 8/31, perhaps do an evening program and an informal morning event for students on 9/1, and then give her a break before the game.

What I'm trying to say is that we'd be happy to accommodate whatever would be most convenient for her. Let me know what you think that would be and we'll go from here.

Many thanks!

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.
I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School. We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.
Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this.

I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police. We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Best,

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statue of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area

- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer

- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Subject: Re: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police.

We are moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we have rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Best,

Jini

Hi Kat,

I hope you had a great weekend. I was wondering if you and the Justice had a chance to review the list of different activities to see if she had a preference. If not, I would be happy to make up a mock schedule and send it to you and her to review.

Just let me know.

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Justice Kagan's flights to/from Madison are below. Would you mind booking and sending me the airline confirmation? Justice Kagan is also happy to stay at the Edgewater Hotel during her visit. Would you mind sending me the hotel confirmation as well?

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with and email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great. I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Best,

Hi Kat,

I hope you had a great weekend. I was wondering if you and the Justice had a chance to review the list of different activities to see if she had a preference. If not, I would be happy to make up a mock schedule and send it to you and her to review.

Just let me know.

Subject: RE: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.

- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this.

I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police.

We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Subject: Re: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police.

We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Best,

Jini

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th.

Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matter is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Justice Kagan's flights to/from Madison are below. Would you mind booking and sending me the airline confirmation? Justice Kagan is also happy to stay at the Edgewater Hotel during her visit.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Justice Kagan's flights to/from Madison are below. Would you mind booking and sending me the airline confirmation? Justice Kagan is also happy to stay at the Edgewater Hotel during her visit.

- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th.

Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.
I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School. We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police.

We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matter is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8 tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)

We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.

- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Best,

Jini

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Justice Kagan's flights to/from Madison are below. Would you mind booking and sending me the airline confirmation? Justice Kagan is also happy to stay at the Edgewater Hotel during her visit. Would you mind sending me the hotel confirmation as well?

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police. We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th. Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statue of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home

- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this.

I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Best,

Jini

Hi Angela,

I just wanted to follow up on Kim's previous email about getting an email stating approval for WPT to move forward on including the Justice's lecture on Friday, September 8th at 4pm. We would also love to get your feedback generally on the media plan that was shared earlier. We would be happy to arrange to talk of the phone if that would be easier to firm up the details.

Thank you for your time on this.

Hi Angela,

I wanted to reach out to follow up on the approval of the registration page for Justice Kagan's UW Law School visit on September 8th. We are thrilled to have her and would like approval in order to move ahead with the lecture registration.

I also wanted to touch base on another item. We have been working with Wisconsin Public Television in which some of our lectures are featured in their University Place series. As expected, this discussion is of particular interest to them and they would love to include Justice Kagan's discussion in their series. I am attaching WPT's standard release form - if the Justice agrees to allow WPT to record the discussion for their University Place series, we would just need an email stating approval for WPT to move forward or a signed release.

Hello Angela,

I was wondering if we could get your feedback on the press plan that was share with you. Our partners, WI Public television and Wisconsin Eye, are willing to record the Lecture at 4pm on September 8th but we will need your email approval. If you could let us know about that we would greatly appreciate it. Streaming is optional and not critical. It would be very nice for the UW Law School to afterwards have a recording of this special event.

I would be happy to discuss with you any concerns or questions you may have. You can reach me on my office number or my cell phone ([REDACTED])

Subject: Kagan Visit remaining details

Hi all,

We have a couple of things we would love some guidance on –

- An email stating approval for WPT and Wisconsin Eye to record the 4pm lecture with the Justice. If you could indicate whether we can stream the event or record it to be release afterwards that would be great. We are comfortable with either option the Court approves.
- Confirmation of the media plan to ensure that we are giving the press attending the public lecture all the necessary rules and restrictions. (Sent 8/8/17, attached again)
- We would like to have an approved bio of the Justice. We are working on a program for the lecture. A draft of that piece will coming your way soon as well.
- Confirmation on whether we are allowed to invite the WI Supreme Court and the Western District of WI Court to the dinner on September 8th. If they attend, they will pay the fee and we can make sure none of the judges or justices are seated with Justice Kagan.

- Review and approval of press release (See attached.)

Items we are working on

- We should have the questions to the Justice and the staff for the lecture very shortly. We are making some small edits and should have that to you soon.
- Program for the lecture on the 8th.

Thank you for your time and attention. If you need anything or have any questions or concerns, please feel free to reach out.

Hi Kat,

I'm terribly sorry to bother you because I know you and the Court are extremely busy. I think we can work out most of the details at a time when the docket slows down. But we do have two items we do need an answer fairly quickly on so that we can confirm our venue arrangements and complete our registration system and get out invites. I have placed them below, if you and Justice Kagan could review them and get back to me as soon as possible, we would greatly appreciate it.

1. Justice Kagan will participate in lecture/one-on-one discussion for the Law School community on Friday, September 8th at 4pm. We have secured Union Theater located at the heart of the UW campus and just one block from the Law School. We would give first priority to our students, faculty, and alumni to the event. After a specific time, we will open up the event to the public. This event will be free and last from 60-90 minutes, whatever the Justice prefers and the time does not need to be settled on now. All we need to know if she is ok with us moving forward with planning this type of event.
2. Cocktail Reception and/or Dinner following the lecture/discussion at a downtown location. The dinner will be for alumni and faculty where a small fee will be required to cover some of the costs of the dinner. The Law School will not make any money on this dinner and will not be using it as a fundraising event. We would make sure to schedule a break between the lecture and dinner. If the Justice would be willing to a 10-15 speak at the event, we would greatly appreciate it.

That is it. Both these events require much more logistic work beforehand and would love to get moving on confirming space, creating invites and registrations/ticketing systems. We would be happy to work out other events for the Justice's visit but suspect those can wait for when you have more time to talk.

Hi Kat,

I hope you had an enjoyable spring. I wanted to circle back to you about Justice Kagan's visit in early September. We are in the process of planning for that visit and making all the proper arrangements. As I do that I wanted to check in with you to see what Justice Kagan would like to do as far as events. I know that she would like to attend a UW Football game. We have made those arrangements. When Justice Sotomayor came last fall, she did a breakfast with the faculty, lunch Q&A with students, met with local middle school students, did a large public event in a theater where we had moderated questions that were preselected and then a small dinner with a group of close UW Law School friends.

We by no means need to repeat any of this format but I wanted to give you an idea of what we have coordinated in the past. We are happy to work with you and the Justice to work out the her preferred schedule. Due to the amount of attention her visit will garner, I just need to get an basic idea of what sort of events she would prefer so I can start securing the space and work with campus police and the US Marshalls.

Thank you for your time. Happy to talk to you on the phone about these details if that is easier.

Hi Kat,

I hope you had an enjoyable spring. I wanted to circle back to you about Justice Kagan's visit in early September. We are in the process of planning for that visit and making all the proper arrangements. As I do that I wanted to check in with you to see what Justice Kagan would like to do as far as events. I know that she would like to attend a UW Football game. We have made those arrangements. When Justice Sotomayor came last fall, she did a breakfast with the faculty, lunch Q&A with students, met with local middle school students, did a large public event in a theater where we had moderated questions that were preselected and then a small dinner with a group of close UW Law School friends.

We by no means need to repeat any of this format but I wanted to give you an idea of what we have coordinated in the past. We are happy to work with you and the Justice to work out the her preferred schedule. Due to the amount of attention her visit will garner, I just need to get an basic idea of what sort of events she would prefer so I can start securing the space and work with campus police and the US Marshalls.

Thank you for your time. Happy to talk to you on the phone about these details if that is easier.

Best,

Jini

Hi Kat,

I'm terribly sorry to bother you because I know you and the Court are extremely busy. I think we can work out most of the details at a time when the docket slows down. But we do have two items we do need an answer fairly quickly on so that we can confirm our venue arrangements and complete our registration system and get out invites. I have placed them below, if you and Justice Kagan could review them and get back to me as soon as possible, we would greatly appreciate it.

1. Justice Kagan will participate in lecture/one-on-one discussion for the Law School community on Friday, September 8th at 4pm. We have secured Union Theater located at the heart of the UW campus and just one block from the Law School. We would give first priority to our students, faculty, and alumni to the event. After a specific time, we will open up the event to the public. This event will be free and last from 60-90 minutes, whatever the Justice prefers and the time does not need to be settled on now. All we need to know if she is ok with us moving forward with planning this type of event.
2. Cockatil Reception and/or Dinner following the lecture/discussion at a downtown location. The dinner will be for alumni and faculty where a small fee will be required to cover some of the costs of the dinner. The Law School will not make any money on this dinner and will not be using it as a fundraising event. We would make sure to schedule a break between the lecture and dinner. If the Justice would be willing to a 10-15 speak at the event, we would greatly appreciate it.

That is it. Both these events require much more logistic work beforehand and would love to get moving on confirming space, creating invites and registrations/ticketing systems. We would be happy to work out other events for the Justice's visit but suspect those can wait for when you have more time to talk.

Thank you for your time if you have any questions, please feel free to call me. My cell phone is [REDACTED]

Subject: RE: Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

I'm terribly sorry to bother you because I know you and the Court are extremely busy. I think we can work out most of the details at a time when the docket slows down. But we do have two items we do need an answer fairly quickly on so that we can confirm our venue arrangements and complete our registration system and get out invites. I have placed them below, if you and Justice Kagan could review them and get back to me as soon as possible, we would greatly appreciate it.

1. Justice Kagan will participate in lecture/one-on-one discussion for the Law School community on Friday, September 8th at 4pm. We have secured Union Theater located at the heart of the UW campus and just one block from the Law School. We would give first priority to our students, faculty, and alumni to the event. After a specific time, we will open up the event to the public. This event will be free and last from 60-90 minutes, whatever the Justice prefers and the time does not need to be settled on now. All we need to know if she is ok with us moving forward with planning this type of event.
2. Cocktail Reception and/or Dinner following the lecture/discussion at a downtown location. The dinner will be for alumni and faculty where a small fee will be required to cover some of the costs of the dinner. The Law School will not make any money on this dinner and will not be using it as a fundraising event. We would make sure to schedule a break between the lecture and dinner. If the Justice would be willing to a 10-15 speak at the event, we would greatly appreciate it.

That is it. Both these events require much more logistic work beforehand and would love to get moving on confirming space, creating invites and registrations/ticketing systems. We would be happy to work out other events for the Justice's visit but suspect those can wait for when you have more time to talk.

Thank you for your time if you have any questions, please feel free to call me. My cell phone is [REDACTED]

Best,
Jini

Subject: Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

I hope you had an enjoyable spring. I wanted to circle back to you about Justice Kagan's visit in early September. We are in the process of planning for that visit and making all the proper arrangements. As I do that I wanted to check in with you to see what Justice Kagan would like to do as far as events. I know that she would like to attend a UW Football game. We have made those arrangements. When Justice Sotomayor came last fall, she did a breakfast with the faculty, lunch Q&A with students, met with local middle school students, did a large public event in a theater where we had moderated questions that were preselected and then a small dinner with a group of close UW Law School friends.

We by no means need to repeat any of this format but I wanted to give you an idea of what we have coordinated in the past. We are happy to work with you and the Justice to work out the her preferred schedule. Due to the amount of attention her visit will garner, I just need to get an basic idea of what sort of events she would prefer so I can start securing the space and work with campus police and the US Marshalls.

Thank you for your time. Happy to talk to you on the phone about these details if that is easier.

I just wanted to check-in to see if we could get approval for the invite sent on 8/11 and the Save the Date email that was sent on 8/8. We are getting very close to the event and want to make sure we get the appropriate notices out to all our constituencies on a timely basis.
Thank you for your help and attention on this. Happy to answer any questions you may have about those two documents.

By chance, is the draft save the date language approved? We are eager to get this great news out to our community as soon as possible.
I am also writing to share our proposed invitations that we would email to a more general external audience, including alumni. Please see attached.
Best wishes,

Hi Karen,

Thank you for sending the draft save-the-date language and your proposed communications plan. We have a couple of questions regarding the communications plan. First, what arrangements do you propose for the live stream for off-site viewing? Who will have access? Second, if WPT and the Wisconsin Eye videotape the lecture when would they plan to air it? Would it be aired live?

Thanks again,

Angela

Subject: FW: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

MEDIA: Do you propose opening any part of the event to press coverage, and if so, is this your usual practice? If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other arrangement).

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS PLANS: Does the University propose any video, photography, or coverage for its own use? If so, please provide details and proposed uses.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Best regards,

Angela

Subject: RE: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Hello,

I'm just following up because we would like to get this invite to printer as soon as possible. Justice Kagan's assistant has approved the lecture style event. The dinner is what we are waiting on confirmation from the Justice and the PIO. However, the invite attached does not mention having the Justice at the dinner nor a charge. If we could get this approved that would be great. That way we can have them ready to send out as soon as possible.

Best,

Hello Angela,

I just wanted to check-in to see if we could get approval for the invite sent on 8/11 and the Save the Date email that was sent on 8/8. We are getting very close to the event and want to make sure we get the appropriate notices out to all our constituencies on a timely basis.

Thank you for your help and attention on this. Happy to answer any questions you may have about those two documents.

Best,

Dear Angela,

By chance, is the draft save the date language approved? We are eager to get this great news out to our community as soon as possible.

I am also writing to share our proposed invitations that we would email to a more general external audience, including alumni. Please see attached.

Best wishes,

Hi Karen,

Thank you for sending the draft save-the-date language and your proposed communications plan. We have a couple of questions regarding the communications plan. First, what arrangements do you propose for the live stream for off-site viewing? Who will have access? Second, if WPT and the Wisconsin Eye videotape the lecture when would they plan to air it? Would it be aired live?

Thanks again,

Angela

Subject: FW: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

If you could let us know if there is any additional information you need from us to move this forward that would be great. Hello Angela,

I just wanted to check-in to see if we could get approval for the invite sent on 8/11 and the Save the Date email that was sent on 8/8. We are getting very close to the event and want to make sure we get the appropriate notices out to all our constituencies on a timely basis.

Thank you for your help and attention on this. Happy to answer any questions you may have about those two documents.

Best,

Dear Angela,
By chance, is the draft save the date language approved? We are eager to get this great news out to our community as soon as possible.
I am also writing to share our proposed invitations that we would email to a more general external audience, including alumni. Please see attached.
Best wishes,
Karen

Hi Karen,
That you for sending the draft save-the-date language and your proposed communications plan. We have a couple of questions regarding the communications plan. First, what arrangements do you propose for the live stream for off-site viewing? Who will have access? Second, if WPT and the Wisconsin Eye videotape the lecture when would they plan to air it? Would it be aired live?
Thanks again,
Angela

Subject: FW: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

MEDIA: Do you propose opening any part of the event to press coverage, and if so, is this your usual practice? If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other arrangement).

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS PLANS: Does the University propose any video, photography, or coverage for its own use? If so, please provide details and proposed uses.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Best regards,

Angela

Hello,

I'm just following up because we would like to get this invite to printer as soon as possible. Justice Kagan's assistant has approved the lecture style event. The dinner is what we are waiting on confirmation from the Justice and the PIO. However, the invite attached does not mention having the Justice at the dinner nor a charge. If we could get this approved that would be great. That way we can have them ready to send out as soon as possible.

Subject: UW Law School Benchers Invite re: Justice Kagan's visit

Hello,

Attached is a draft of the invite the UW Law School would like to send to tour Benchers Society, a special group of alumni and friends regarding the Dean's Summit. This event is a weekend long event where we invite this group to campus to meet with faculty, staff and students. This event is taking place at the same time Justice Kagan's visit to the University of Wisconsin and we would like to reference that visit in the invite.

Kathryne Lindsey referred me to the PIO office for all press, media, print and digital items that pertain to this visit. If there is a specific contact I should use moving forward on this matter, please let me know.

or contact Emilie Buckman, alumni services coordinator, at 608-262-5918.

Dear Benchers' and Legacy Society Members,

Please join me on September 8 and 9 for the Dean's Summit, our annual gathering for the Law School's most loyal supporters. This event has become one of my favorites: it's my chance to show how your contributions make a difference in our students' lives, discuss the challenges and opportunities on our horizon, and celebrate the proud customs of our past.

We'll start Friday at the Law School, where we'll meet with students, faculty, and staff; enjoy a Q & A session with a very special guest, Associate Justice Elena Kagan of the Supreme Court of the United States; and wrap up with a reception and dinner. On Saturday, we'll tailgate at the Law School, before we head to Camp Randall Stadium to cheer on the Badgers in their match against Florida Atlantic. Tickets for the special lecture and game will be available when you register for the Dean's Summit.

I hope you can make it. It would be my honor to host you.

As always, thank you for your support.

Hi Angela,

The Dean's Summit is a special event for the Benchers Society, a group of alumni and friends that either has placed the UW Law School in their estate plans or gives an annual gift of $1,000 or more to the School. The Summit is free with two exceptions- the fee for the dinner (we will charge $40 for the dinner but the meal actually $45 per person, not including the room fee and other incidentals. There will be a cash bar at the event) and the face value cost of any football tickets the alum wishes to have. All the other meals (breakfast, lunch, breaks, and tailgate) and incidentals such as transportation in town, parking, copying, etc. are picked up by the School. We never directly ask this group for money in connection with this event. Our fundraising request to this group is scheduled to go out the first week in November, where they get a customized ask and a 4 page brochure.

I have forwarded your press and media request to our communication team. We will be meeting tomorrow and will have all the items you requested to you and your office to review soon.

Please let me know if you have any other questions. We would really appreciate to get the approval for this invite as soon possible since we are a month away from this event.

Thank you!

Dear Jini,

Thank you for your email. We would appreciate some additional information about the Dean's Summit prior to approving the draft invitation. Is there any fee charged to register for the Dean's Summit weekend (separate from the contribution that is required to be a member of the Benchers Society)? Is the weekend long event expected to raise funds for the school? The Justice's event may not be linked with fundraising.

Your proposal to charge a fee for the dinner that covers only the costs associated with the dinner itself sounds fine. The Justice may not be associated with fundraising and we consider an event to be a fundraiser if the revenues from the event are expected to exceed its costs, or if guests are asked for donations at the event.

Please continue to provide us with any draft written materials mentioning the Justice prior to release (invitations, email notices, website postings, releases, etc.). We would also appreciate your providing a communications plan for review that addresses the following:

If you propose press coverage, please provide details concerning your usual guidelines (i.e., whether open to all still camera, print, and broadcast coverage, by invitation only, or some other

Hello all,

Our contact at Union Theater reached out to see when we would do a security walk though. The theater is very busy in August. She gave the following dates of when we could all meet in the space and go through the security protocols, registration, etc.

Mon 8/21 between 2-5 pm

Wed 8/23 between noon-2pm

Thurs 8/24 between 2-5 pm

Wed 8/30 between 9:30-11:30 am

Thurs 8/31 between noon-3 pm

Along with the theater we will also need to do a walk through the Edgewater, Pyle Center, Law School building, Camp Randall and possibly the Olin House.

We are happy to make these arrangements once the date and time has been chosen or work with UWPD to make these arrangements.

Thanks in advance for your work on this.

Hi Darryl,

It was lovely to talk to you last week. We are very excited about Justice Kagan's upcoming visit and are thrilled to be working with you and UW Police again on this matter. We have reserved three rooms for the Justice and the marshals at the Edgewater Hotel. Right now the rooms are in under a staff member's name but we can change that so they are in your name.

As I mentioned on the phone last week, we have confirmed a lecture at Union Theater, followed by a dinner at the Edgewater Hotel, and a football game on Saturday where we have on reserved space in the Chancellor's box. We are waiting for confirmation on what other activities the Justice is willing to do during her time in Madison but the impression I got is that she will willing to give us her entire day on Friday, September 8th.

Working with me on this visit at the Law School are Kimberly Raether and Emilie Buckman. We will continue to keep everyone on this email string updated with any news as we receive it. If you need to be in touch, please feel free to reach out at the contact information below or my cell at [REDACTED]

Hi Darryl,

It is good to hear from you. We are excited and honored to have Associate Justice Kagan and your team coming to the UW campus. The University of Wisconsin Madison Police Department is prepared and committed to provide whatever support and assistance you need.

There have been a few position changes here at UWPD since you were here last. I was one of those people impacted and have moved to the position of Support Service Captain. The following personnel will be responsible for the UWPD planning, coordination and communications for your visit.

Lt. Cherise Caradine

Special Event Lieutenant

Personal Protection Team Commander

Cell - [REDACTED]

Detective Peter Grimyser

Personal Protection Team Co-Leader

Cell - [REDACTED]

peter.grimyser@wisc.edu

Police Officer Patrick Lau

Personal Protection Team Co-Leader

Cell - [REDACTED]

I am certainly willing to help with any transition or continuity of operations questions that come up and provide assistance to the respective teams as needed. Take care and let me know if there is anything I can do to help.

Thanks,

Mark

Good Morning,

I received information from Marshals Service Headquarters that Associate Justice Kagan will be traveling to Madison, Wisconsin for an event at the law school September 7th, thru the 9th. The Marshals Service will be providing protection for this upcoming visit and would request the assistance of UWPD during this mission. In addition, I have been provided with the name of Jini Jasti as the point of contact for this visit. Jini, if you are in charge of the hotel accommodations for the Justice, can you ensure that there are two rooms held for the Marshals at the same location? Thank you

I look forward to working with you all again as you are always very professional and extremely efficient.

I will provide additional information as it becomes available and please include others that have a need to know as you deem appropriate.

Good afternoon,

Thank you for putting together the dates for a scheduled walkthrough. The date that would work best for the Marshals would probably be Wednesday 8/30/17 and yes we would greatly appreciate arrangements being made to conduct walkthroughs at the additional venues that will be visited by our VIP.

Hello all,

Our contact at Union Theater reached out to see when we would do a security walk though. The theater is very busy in August. She gave the following dates of when we could all meet in the space and go through the security protocols, registration, etc.

Mon 8/21 between 2-5 pm

Wed 8/23 between noon-2pm

Thurs 8/24 between 2-5 pm

Wed 8/30 between 9:30-11:30 am

Thurs 8/31 between noon-3 pm

Along with the theater we will also need to do a walk through the Edgewater, Pyle Center, Law School building, Camp Randall and possibly the Olin House.

We are happy to make these arrangements once the date and time has been chosen or work with UWPD to make these arrangements.

Thanks in advance for your work on this.

Hi Darryl,

It was lovely to talk to you last week. We are very excited about Justice Kagan's upcoming visit and are thrilled to be working with you and UW Police again on this matter. We have reserved three rooms for the Justice and the marshals at the Edgewater Hotel. Right now the rooms are in under a staff member's name but we can change that so they are in your name.

As I mentioned on the phone last week, we have confirmed a lecture at Union Theater, followed by a dinner at the Edgewater Hotel, and a football game on Saturday where we have on reserved space in the Chancellor's box. We are waiting for confirmation on what other activities the Justice is willing to do during her time in Madison but the impression I got is that she will willing to give us her entire day on Friday, September 8th.

Working with me on this visit at the Law School are Kimberly Raether and Emilie Buckman. We will continue to keep everyone on this email string updated with any news as we receive it. If you need to be in touch, please feel free to reach out at the contact information below or my cell at [REDACTED]

Hello,

Attached is a draft of the invite the UW Law School would like to send to tour Benchers Society, a special group of alumni and friends regarding the Dean's Summit. This event is a weekend long event where we invite this group to campus to meet with faculty, staff and students. This event is taking place at the same time Justice Kagan's visit to the University of Wisconsin and we would like to reference that visit in the invite.

Kathryne Lindsey referred me to the PIO office for all press, media, print and digital items that pertain to this visit. If there is a specific contact I should use moving forward on this matter, please let me know.

We are very excited for this visit and are willing to make any change or adjustments necessary. Please feel free to share your feedback and requests.

Dear Benchers' and Legacy Society Members,

Please join me on September 8 and 9 for the Dean's Summit, our annual gathering for the Law School's most loyal supporters. This event has become one of my favorites: it's my chance to show how your contributions make a difference in our students' lives, discuss the challenges and opportunities on our horizon, and celebrate the proud customs of our past.

We'll start Friday at the Law School, where we'll meet with students, faculty, and staff; enjoy a Q & A session with a very special guest, Associate Justice Elena Kagan of the Supreme Court of the United States; and wrap up with a reception and dinner. On Saturday, we'll tailgate at the Law School, before we head to Camp Randall Stadium to cheer on the Badgers in their match against Florida Atlantic. Tickets for the special lecture and game will be available when you register for the Dean's Summit.

I hope you can make it. It would be my honor to host you.

As always, thank you for your support.

I wanted to reach out separately to see if there is any way we could get some feedback on the press plan and press release that was sent out for review. With the Justice's visit and lecture fast approaching we would really like to make sure we can handle all the press inquiries that come in and maintain our good relations with our local press contacts. Getting your feedback on the press plan, an email stating we are allowed to video record the lecture and the edited press release would be extremely helpful for us as we prepare for this visit. Jini,

Our pontoon driver will have the pontoon here tomorrow at 9:15. He will also be present. His name is Steve Holtzman. Steve is a great representative of the University and a wealth of knowledge.

Jini,

Our pontoon is maintained and housed by Skipper Buds. It has not been inspected by the DNR or Sheriff's office since we received it four years ago.

We do have all the required safety equipment onboard.

We can make the boat available to an inspection whenever you need it on Friday. Once inspected, we would not schedule its use afterwards. However, it would be tied up to the Goodspeed Family Pier. I would need to know what our expectations are to keep it secure.

If the UW PD and US Marshals want to see the pontoon tomorrow, I will need to know that today so I can schedule to have it brought over.

This is great news. I need to ask for security purposes when was the last time your boat was inspected by the DNR or Sheriff's office. And does WAA have all the required equipment – fire extinguisher, PFDS, etc.?

I'll talk with the UW PD and the US Marshals service. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Would that be a problem?

Finally, would it be possible to have the UW PD and the Marshals take a look at the boat when we do our final walkthrough tomorrow?

Thanks everyone for your help with this.

Jini,

It would be our pleasure! There is no better way of traveling than by boat! Unfortunately for myself, I am off that day moving my daughter. However, Dirk Van Rybroek who is handling the set-up for the Justice in our building, can also handle all the logistics for this. Friday looks like a good day weather-wise. We normally have our pontoon here on Fridays to do tours, so we can reserve a separate time for her ride and any security check of the boat. Let's keep in touch on this so I can make sure we are prepared on this end. We are all very excited to show her Madison from a different perspective. I know she will enjoy it!

Hi Mark,

I have a huge favor. Justice Elena Kagan from the US Supreme Court will be visiting campus Friday and Saturday. She has some free time on Friday afternoon and will possibly be at WAA, I was wondering if it would be at all possible to take her on a boat ride on WAA's boat. She is staying at the Edgewater and I thought it would be a great photo op and a nice Wisconsin touch to have her get back to her hotel in the afternoon by water.

I would love to chat with you more about this. You can email or call my office or my cell is [REDACTED]

Hi Kat,

Attached is the press list RSVP for the Friday, September 8th lecture. They have all been notified by the Law School's communication team about the rules and restrictions. They will all be seated together and will have a separate check-in and will be monitored by Law School staff to ensure they comply with the rules we were given.

If either of you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. Technically, we have space for 4 more press. If there are any late minute additions, I will make sure to let you know.

Hello Angela and Kat,

Attached is the draft script for the 4pm lecture on September 8th with Justice Kagan. Dean Margaret Raymond will be the moderator. Please feel free to review and edit as you see fit. Just as a reminder, this event will be scripted Q&A with no questions from the audience. Thank you for your time and attention on this.

Q&A for Justice Kagan - draft

Let's start by talking a bit about law school. You went to law school, of course, then you taught in two, and then you were the dean of one. Do you miss hanging out in law schools? What do you like about coming back to law schools? Are there things about them you are glad to be rid of?

Your father was a lawyer. Did he bring that home? Did he talk about his work with you? Did you know early on that this was a path you wanted to follow? What did you take away from having a lawyer for a parent?

Let's talk about your mother as well. She was a teacher, and you've said that she had high expectations for you and that she taught you to write. Were there lessons you learned from her that continue to be important to you today?

What about other mentors? Were there teachers, colleagues, employers who made a significant impression on you? I wonder if you'd share some insights that you learned from the different people you've been privileged to work with and learn from during your career.

Many, though not all, Supreme Court Justices have previously been judges in other courts. Your role as a Justice is your first job as a judge. Talk with us about doing that work for the first time as a Supreme Court Justice. Is there "new Justice school"? How do you learn to be a Supreme Court Justice?

Before you were a Justice on the Supreme Court, you had played a number of different roles at the Supreme Court. As a recent graduate, you were a law clerk to Justice Thurgood Marshall. As Solicitor General, you argued cases before the Court on behalf of the United States. What perspective did each of those experiences bring to your current role? Did you learn anything from being a law clerk or an advocate before the Court that helps inform the work you do now?

You were a law clerk—both to Justice Marshall and to Judge Abner Mikva on the D.C. Circuit—and now you have law clerks. Talk with us a little bit about your relationship with your clerks—what they do, how they help you, what they're learning from you. And my guess is that some of the students in the room would love some advice about what they can do to best position themselves to be chosen as a law clerk and to excel in that work.

You also see a lot of lawyers in your role, doing the most traditional "lawyering" thing imaginable—appellate argument before the highest court in the land. What do you admire about the great lawyers you see arguing before you? Do you see anything that makes you wince or that you really think diminishes and damages the argument? Is there a secret list of tips that you might offer attorneys about to embark on an appellate argument—a sort of "ten things Justice Kagan wants you to know" listicle?

There's been a lot of conversation about whether the background and experience members of the judiciary bring to the bench is relevant to how they decide cases. At one extreme is the notion that background doesn't matter—that being a judge is just about applying law to fact situations and that your background and experiences are simply irrelevant to the enterprise. Others would say that judges bring their backgrounds to their decision making and that it has an effect. Where do you find yourself on that continuum? Are there things in your background and experience that influence you as a Justice?

You've recently had two new experiences as a member of the Court. The first is that for the first time, you lost a colleague when Justice Scalia died. Tell us about what that meant to you, but also, tell us a little bit about how the group dynamics change when you lose a fellow Justice.

The second new experience was the confirmation of Justice Gorsuch, which meant the end of your tenure as the junior justice. I've got two questions for you.

First, how does the fact that there's a more junior Justice change your work at the Court? Is there anything you miss about being the junior justice? Is there anything new you get to do now that you like? Are there any jobs that will come to you with increased seniority that you're not particularly looking forward to?

Second question: How does a new member of the Court change the dynamic of the place? Tell us a little bit about the interpersonal aspects of your work and about how those change when, as just happened for the first time for you, a new Justice joins you on the bench.

It feels like the world is changing fast these days. The ways we communicate has changed; the way law is practiced and the way law firms are organized and do business has changed; the speed and nature of discourse in the public space has changed. Does it feel like the Court is changing as fast as the rest of the world? What manifestations of change do you see? What do you think perhaps should change that might take a little time to move? Are there things you hope will stay the same about the institution in the face of change?

In the movie "Men in Black," Agent Zed tells new Agent J, "Time to put it on. The last suit you'll ever wear." Like the MIB squad, Supreme Court justices rarely retire, or leave to take other jobs. You've held a lot of different positions and done a lot of different kinds of work over the course of your professional career. And my sense is that you've enjoyed that. How does it feel to have life tenure in what is likely to be the last job you'll ever have?

Thanks Jini! No worries, the Marshals usually do not send me the final schedule, I send it to them. A couple of last minuet questions:

-Would it be possible for the Justice to arrive at the venue for the conversation at 3:45pm? Or did you want her to meet with the Chancellor and Dean before the conversation?

-Can you send me the final media/press list?

-Do you have the seating chart or guest list for Justice Kagan's table for dinner Friday night?

-Do you have any additional details for Saturday morning? I noticed it said TBD.

Many thanks,

Kat

Hi Kat,

I should have the final press list sometime tomorrow afternoon. Due to the lateness of the release, we are extending the window slightly to accommodate our local press colleagues.

I'm finalizing the seating chart for dinner with the Dean midday and will share that as well. I'll also share the faculty and dinner RSVP lists.

I also just sent you an updated schedule and pushed back the check-in time for the Justice prior to the lecture and filled in the Saturday times.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Best,

Thanks Jini! No worries, the Marshals usually do not send me the final schedule, I send it to them. A couple of last minuet questions:

-Would it be possible for the Justice to arrive at the venue for the conversation at 3:45pm? Or did you want her to meet with the Chancellor and Dean before the conversation?

-Can you send me the final media/press list?

-Do you have the seating chart or guest list for Justice Kagan's table for dinner Friday night?

-Do you have any additional details for Saturday morning? I noticed it said TBD.

Many thanks,

Kat

Subject: RE: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hi Kat,

Thanks for your patience.

I wanted to give you an idea on the schedule for Justice Kagan's visit to UW Law School.

We have arranged for the Justice would to have dinner on September 7th with the Chancellor, Provost, Dean and their spouses. We thought this would replace the formal meeting the Justice agreed to have with the Dean and the Chancellor. This would allow her a more open time the next day. I hope that is ok.

Below is an tentative agenda. Please let me know if you or the Justice have an concerns or would like something rearranged. I'll keep working like these events are agreeable as proposed below. The events and timing of them follow the direction you gave me in your last email. If there are other items or things the Justice wishes to do while she is here, please let me know. I would be happy to make those arrangements.

Friday, September 8th tentative schedule

- 9:30-10:30 am – Breakfast talk with faculty, staff and trusted friends of the Law School
- 10:30am –noon – Break. We would have the Justice go to the Pyle Center for student lunch. A room will be made available for the Justice to take a break, eat or do any work she would like to do.
- 12-1pm – Lunch talk with UW Law School
- 1-3pm – Would return to the Law School or hotel for a break. We may need the Justice to conduct a sound check at the theatre during this time. Wherever she would like to be (central campus, Law School, theatre, etc – we will have some private landing space for the Justice to have some privacy and quiet time)
- 4pm – Public lecture. The Chancellor would be doing the welcome introduction Dean Raymond will be doing the conversation questions with the Justice. We are working on those questions now and will have them to you and the Justice to review soon
- 6pm – Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel. This event will be at the Hotel we have the Justice staying in. The cocktail reception will be at 6pm with Dinner taking place at 7pm. The Justice has agreed to talk for 5 minutes at this dinner.

Saturday, September 9th tentative schedule

- 8:30/9 am – Tailgate. The Justice has been invited to both the Chancellor's tailgate or the tailgate at the Law School. The marshals will be reviewing both areas so the Justice is able to decide later what she would prefer
- 11 am – Kick off for the UW v. Florida Atlantic football game

I do have some action items for you that would be helpful to know for us as we continue our planning for the Justice's visit. Does the Justice have any meal preferences or dietary issues that we should plan for during her visit. In addition, Dean Raymond wanted me to check to see if the Justice has any cuisine preferences for the dinner Thursday evening? I talked with our assigned marshal. He wasn't sure if I should place the hotel room we have reserved for the Justice under your name or his. Happy to do either but wanted to check with you on this. I also wanted to check on the format for the faculty breakfast and student luncheon programs. In the past, we have allowed the faculty and staff to have an open Q&A session. This event is invite only and there will be no media present. For the student luncheon, we have students write down questions when they arrive and Dean Raymond will moderate the appropriate questions to the Justice. This also will be an invite only event with only UW Law School students. If you could let me know if these formats are agreeable for the breakfast and lunch that would be great.

Thank you for your time and attention on this. I really appreciate it. Please let me know if you or the Justice would like us to change anything.

Hi Jini,

Justice Kagan is happy to participate in the following activities during her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday, September 8 and on Saturday, September 9:

- Breakfast and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Faculty
- Luncheon and Q&A with Wisconsin Law Students
- Meet with Dean Margaret Raymond and Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Conversation/Q&A at Union Theater
- Reception and Dinner at the Edgewater Hotel – Justice Kagan is happy to give brief remarks (about 5 minutes) at the beginning or end of dinner.
- Tailgate at Chancellor's Residence
- Attend Football Game in Chancellor's Box

FYI – The Breakfast and Luncheon are traditionally private events that are closed to the press and very informal. Justice Kagan usually gives brief introductory remarks and then opens the floor to questions. You should reach out to PIO for more information/guidelines. Questions do not need to be submitted in advance for the Breakfast or Luncheon. However, we would like to see questions or talking points for the conversation event at Union Theater.

Justice Kagan's flights to/from Madison are below. Would you mind booking and sending me the airline confirmation? Justice Kagan is also happy to stay at the Edgewater Hotel during her visit.

Would you mind sending me the hotel confirmation as well?

Hi Kat,

I just wanted to follow up about the different activities listed in my previous email to see if the Justice has indicated any preferences on how she would like to spend her day.

The US Marshals will be in Madison on August 30th meeting with me, my staff and UW police. We moving forward making the following decisions, however we are happy to adjust and change based on the Justice's desire -

- Breakfast with faculty at the UW Law School
- Lunch with current UW Law Students
- Public Q&A at Union Theater
- Dinner at Edgewater Hotel (where we rooms reserved for the Justice and her security)
- Tailgate at the Chancellor's House on Saturday or tailgate at the UW Law School
- Chancellor's box for football game

I will also have security clear several meeting spaces within the Law School for the Justice to meet with the Chancellor, the Dean of the Law School, and local judiciary if she so chooses.

If any of these activities need to be changed or adjusted we are happy to do whatever the Justice desires. I just wanted to make sure I can move forward with the logistical planning based on whatever she decides knowing full well, that the Justice may not wish to do some of these activities.

Thank you for your time. If you need anything, please feel free to call or email me.

Subject: Justice Kagan visit to UW Law School

Hello Kat,

It was lovely to talk to you. I wanted to follow up as promised with an email with some items we need to discuss.

First, we agree that there will be a conversation lecture featuring the Justice at 4pm on the 8th.

Followed by a reception and dinner at 6pm.

The first item I need confirmation on is whether we can charge a fee for the dinner to recoup some of the costs of the dinner event. We suspect that dinner without alcohol will cost $40-$50 per person. We would like to charge around $25 or $30 per person. As I mentioned, this will help us control the size and ensure that that we later don't have any issues with the way the budget for this visit was handled politically. If we cannot, that is fine, we are happy to manage the size and costs another way. But if you could give me a decision on this matter as soon as possible that would be great.

I have attached an invite we would like to use for some of our guests we will be inviting on campus for the Justice's visit. This group of alumni will have other programming separate from the Justice's visit but we would like to share with them about this and give them an opportunity to come to the dinner. This invite will only go out to a small number of alumni. The image is of a statute of Abe Lincoln which sits at the heart of the UW Campus.

The other less urgent matters is the Justice's schedule for September 8th and 9th. Some ideas if the Justice is interested –

- Breakfast with UW Law Faculty with short comments
- One-on-one meeting with Dean Margaret Raymond
- One-on-one meeting with Chancellor Rebecca Blank
- Lunch with students
- Possible time with local judiciary – State and federal judges in the area
- Tour of campus
- Tailgate at Chancellor's home
- Football game

I did check and the football game on Saturday does start on the 11 am. I suspect the Chancellor will extend an invite to the Justice to attend her tailgate she hosts for special guests. However, we would also be willing to host something for the Justice as well or allow her to enjoy Madison during the lovely fall. We have a pretty large farmer's market that is extremely popular that takes place Saturday mornings.

We have made hotel accommodations for the Justice and her security detail at the Edgewater. This was the same hotel Justice Sotomayor stayed last year. We have the room reserved in the name of the Law School and can send you the confirmation for those rooms to you or the Marshalls, once identified who we are working on for this.

I hope this helpful. Please let me know if you or the Justice have any concerns, special requests or particular ideas. We are extremely excited about the Justice's visit and would be happy to make any arrangements she would like.

Thank you for your help with this.

Hi Jini,

The attached press release is perfectly fine and is approved.

We understand that the University of Wisconsin Law School proposes that Justice Kagan's September 8 conversation-style lecture be open to press coverage, including broadcast, as is its usual practice. This is fine. Still photographers should be limited to the first 1-2 minutes and last 1-2 minutes of the program with the Justice and broadcast cameras should work from a fixed position at the back of the space. Reporters should be seated in a separate section and should not participate in any Q&A with the audience. Please note the Justice will not be available for any interviews during her visit.

Photos taken at the lecture by the university may be used in association with news coverage of the event on its website and social media accounts. Other scheduled events with the Justice are considered private and therefore not open to media coverage. Photos taken by the University of Wisconsin at other locations during the Justice's visit or at private events or receptions may be used for personal mementos only and not for publication. The university may videotape the lecture for later posting on its website, Wisconsin Public Television may videotape for airing on the University Place channel, and the Wisconsin Eye may air the lecture live as well as videotape it for future viewing—all as requested. As a reminder, the Justice's name and image may not be used in association with fundraising or in a manner that may suggest endorsement.

Thank you once again for being exceedingly patient. We will get back to you shortly regarding the draft program, and please let us know if additional questions arise.

Best regards,
Angela

- An email stating approval for WPT and Wisconsin Eye to record the 4pm lecture with the Justice. If you could indicate whether we can stream the event or record it to be release afterwards that would be great. We are comfortable with either option the Court approves.
- Confirmation of the media plan to ensure that we are giving the press attending the public lecture all the necessary rules and restrictions. (Sent 8/8/17, attached again)
- We would like to have an approved bio of the Justice. We are working on a program for the lecture. A draft of that piece will coming your way soon as well.
- Confirmation on whether we are allowed to invite the WI Supreme Court and the Western District of WI Court to the dinner on September 8th. If they attend, they will pay the fee and we can make sure none of the judges or justices are seated with Justice Kagan.
- Review and approval of press release (See attached.)

Items we are working on

- We should have the questions to the Justice and the staff for the lecture very shortly. We are making some small edits and should have that to you soon.
- Program for the lecture on the 8th.

A Discussion with Associate Justice Elena Kagan,
Supreme Court of the United States

Welcome by Chancellor Rebecca Blank
Hosted by Dean Margaret Raymond

September 8, 2017

Justice Elena Kagan

The Collection of the Supreme Court of the United States

Elena Kagan, Associate Justice, was born in New York, New York, on April 28, 1960. She received an A.B. from Princeton in 1981, an M. Phil. from Oxford in 1983, and a J.D. from Harvard Law School in 1986.

She clerked for Judge Abner Mikva of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit from 1986-1987 and for Justice Thurgood Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court during the 1987 Term.

After briefly practicing law at a Washington, D.C. law firm, she became a law professor, first at the University of Chicago Law School and later at Harvard Law School.

She also served for four years in the Clinton Administration, as Associate Counsel to the President and then as Deputy Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy. Between 2003 and 2009, she served as the Dean of Harvard Law School.

In 2009, President Obama nominated her as the Solicitor General of the United States. A year later, the President nominated her as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court on May 10, 2010. She took her seat on August 7, 2010.

Dean Margaret Raymond

Margaret Raymond was named Dean of University of Wisconsin Law School in July 2011. Dean Raymond received a bachelor's degree from Carleton College and earned her J.D. at Columbia University School of Law, where she was Editor-in-Chief of the Columbia Law Review.

She served as a law clerk to the late Justice Thurgood Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court and the late Judge James L. Oakes of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Following her clerkships, she practiced as a commercial litigator and a criminal defense lawyer. She was a member of the faculty at the University of Iowa from 1995-2011, where she was named the William G. Hammond Professor of Law and was honored with the law school's Collegiate Teaching Award. While at Iowa, Dean Raymond held a number of campus leadership roles, including president of the University Faculty Senate.

Dean Raymond's scholarship focuses on constitutional criminal procedure, substantive criminal law, and the professional responsibility of lawyers. She is the author of a Professional Responsibility casebook, The Law and Ethics of Law Practice.

Hello Angela,

Attached is the draft program for the 4pm lecture on Friday featuring Justice Kagan. Please let us know of any edits you and your office may have.

Also, if you could let me know your office's feedback on the press plan that was sent we would greatly appreciate it.

Finally, we are also waiting your office to get us the press release about the Justice's visit. We would love to get that to our local press as soon as possible so any feedback and edits you can get us on that would be great.

Finally, Dean Raymond is putting her final touches on her questions. She will have them completed by the end of business today.

Best,

Jini

Hi Jini,

We will get back to you on all of your questions just as soon as possible. In the meantime, I have attached Justice Kagan's official photo and bio for your use regarding the Justice's upcoming visit. We look forward to reviewing a draft of the program and promise to turn it around quickly. The credit line on the Justice's photograph should read "The Collection of the Supreme Court of the United States." Please note that the Justice may not participate in fundraising and her name or likenesses may not be used in a way that might suggest endorsement.

We'll be in touch again shortly.

Hello Angela,

I was wondering if we could get your feedback on the press plan that was share with you. Our partners, WI Public television and Wisconsin Eye, are willing to record the Lecture at 4pm on September 8th but we will need your email approval. If you could let us know about that we would greatly appreciate it. Streaming is optional and not critical. It would be very nice for the UW Law School to afterwards have a recording of this special event.

I would be happy to discuss with you any concerns or questions you may have. You can reach me on my office number or my cell phone ([REDACTED])

Hi all,

We have a couple of things we would love some guidance on –

- An email stating approval for WPT and Wisconsin Eye to record the 4pm lecture with the Justice. If you could indicate whether we can stream the event or record it to be release afterwards that would be great. We are comfortable with either option the Court approves.
- Confirmation of the media plan to ensure that we are giving the press attending the public lecture all the necessary rules and restrictions. (Sent 8/8/17, attached again)
- We would like to have an approved bio of the Justice. We are working on a program for the lecture. A draft of that piece will coming your way soon as well.
- Confirmation on whether we are allowed to invite the WI Supreme Court and the Western District of WI Court to the dinner on September 8th. If they attend, they will pay the fee and we can make sure none of the judges or justices are seated with Justice Kagan.
- Review and approval of press release (See attached.)

Items we are working on

- We should have the questions to the Justice and the staff for the lecture very shortly. We are making some small edits and should have that to you soon.
- Program for the lecture on the 8th.

Thank you for your time and attention. If you need anything or have any questions or concerns, please feel free to reach out.

Hi Kat,

Thank you for your quick reply. Good news, nothing perishable will be sent. So I think we are good on that. I'll make sure a tracking number gets sent to you prior to sending anything.

Finally, thank you so much about your suggestion of the color matted photo. I'm going to figure out the number of photos needed and I'll contact the gift shop and let them know I'm working with you on this. Thank you so much for your assistance on this. It is a small gesture but I know the staff that worked on this visit will all be thrilled to have such a special memento.

Hi Jini,

Thanks for your email. I'm so glad Justice Kagan's visit went well; I know she enjoyed it.

The best way to send something to the Justice is by UPS or Fed-Ex to the address below. Please send me the tracking number in advance so I can alert the police/screening warehouse. Out of curiosity, are you sending something perishable? I ask because it will require the police to expedite the package doubly fast.

The Honorable Elena Kagan
Supreme Court of the United States
One First Street, NE
Washington, DC 20543

I think the best thing would be to buy a matted, color photo of Justice Kagan's official portrait through the gift shop and have her sign it. What do you think? I can work with the gift shop to take your payment over the phone (they do this occasionally) and then I'll have Justice Kagan sign it. I'm not sure the exact cost but I think it's less than $15 each. I can check with the gift shop when they open tomorrow morning.

Thank you for all of your patience and hard work. It's been a pleasure working with you.

Hi Kat,

Thank you so much for all your help in getting the Justice's visit in order to UW. We had a great time and the visit went very smoothly. I know that was only possible do to your hard work. I had a couple of follow up questions for you.

First, if the Dean and I wanted send something to the Court and the Justice, could you let me know the address and the best way to address the delivery so it gets to the proper place.

Second, we had a lot of staff assisting on our end for the visit and they did not get the lovely one-on-one time that I was fortunate to get. I was thinking of purchasing them out of my own personal funds a small memento to thank them all for their hard work in making the visit a success. Last year when Justice Sotomayor visited, I was able to purchase her book and her staff was great about having her sign a books. I know Justice Kagan does not have a book published but I was wondering if there was a way I could purchase an photo of her or another item that she could sign. I would happy to pay for the items and the shipping. Any thoughts or ideas about this are welcomed.

Thanks again for everything you did. I really enjoyed working with you and hope our paths can cross again in the future.

Hi Kat,

I hope you 2018 is treat you well. I was wondering the status of this project. I realize the Justice is very busy. If this hasn't been done, I'm fine with just returning the photos to the gift shop and getting a refund for the cost. I ended up treating all the staff that helped during Kagan's visit with a lunch and other present. However, if the task is close to completion, we would happily receive and distribute them as planned.

I just thought I would reach out and give both options. Thank you for your time and attention to this. If they are being returned, please let me know so that I can reach out to the gift shop so that they can be refunded.

Hi Kat,

I apologize for the tardy reply. We have been swamped with events this fall. I did indeed purchase 18 photos because we had lots of volunteers to make the visit a success. I know the staff would greatly appreciate the gesture and will not expect it to be personalized. I realize Justice Kagan is very busy with oral arguments right now. So if she is only able to sign the photos, that is completely fine. My department and I just wanted to provide the staff that worked the events, a thank you for all their hard work. Many of them did not get to have any or a lot of time with the Justice while she was here at UW Law School but their work was integral in making it a success. I received 18 matted color photos of Justice Kagan from the gift shop. Did you mean to order 18? This is kind of a lot for Justice Kagan to sign, but I think it's best if she personalizes them. Can you send me a list of everyone that will be receiving a photo?

Hi Kat,

The boat ride is being set up today and I believe the Dean will be joining the Justice. The lunch location and the Edgewater hotel when the Justice is all on the water separate by a few city blocks. We thought it would be a unique way for the Justice to return to her hotel for the break before the lecture. If she prefers to use her motorcade that is fine. We can prep everything and the Justice can decide tomorrow if she wishes.

- Added the boat ride on Friday afternoon
- We adjusted the Justice's arrival time to the theater based on her request
- We also added the departure times when we could for Saturday

I suspect we may have some small changes after the final walkthroughs tomorrow. If any of you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to let me know.

- Room blocking has changed and now 980, 983 and 985 will be the occupied rooms, with the VIP staying in room 985.
- Guests in rooms 980, 983 and 985 have "No Late Check-out" alerts placed on them. HSKP has been informed to clean the rooms as soon as possible – FD to coordinate with Tricia and Sara. K-9 unit will need to be in the room by 1pm.
- We will need two additional chairs placed in room 980 for security detail.
- We will need three sets of building keys to access back of house doors and elevators.
- Billing information has been provided to sales, no charges to the credit card on file.
- We will need to place cones on the farthest spot available on the auto court for the VIPs car. Jason to show Connor / Valet where to place them
- Langdon extension will be used as staging area for security detail. We will need to section off additional space for vehicles. Hotel Shuttle will be moved to auto court to accommodate
- Stanchion and sign to be placed on the plaza terrace notifying guests of private event in the ballroom (Closed for Private Event)
- 6 foot table with skirt to be placed in Nolen Gallery for registration
- Door to ballroom A closed and locked - only entrance to Ballroom will be through Ballroom B door
- We may need to reserve a space on the dock for the VIP – waiting to hear from Mr. McPherson

As mentioned, I will be your contact for check-in and anything early evening for Thursday and Friday as I will be on sight. My cell is [REDACTED] and you can contact me any time while I'm on or off property for assistance or if you have any questions or concerns. Feel free to share that number with the security detail as well. Sarah Nachreiner will be the Manager on Duty on Thursday night after I leave and Alisha Young will be the Manager on Duty on Friday night after I leave.

Emily, can you provide Jini's contact for the Banquets / Events in your absence so has a point person?

Please don't hesitate to let us know of any last minute changes and we would be happy to assist!

Hi Darryl and Pete,

Attached is are drafts of the security schedule and photos for Justice Kagan's upcoming visit. We suspect the schedule may change based on the walkthroughs that will take place on Wednesday and Thursday.

Also, we are missing the photo of the CART reporter that one of alumni will need. So that document will be updated as some point as well. We just wanted to make sure you were both in the loop and had some information to work with.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to reach out.

Hi Kat,

Thank you so much for all your help in getting the Justice's visit in order to UW. We had a great time and the visit went very smoothly. I know that was only possible do to your hard work. I had a couple of follow up questions for you.

First, if the Dean and I wanted send something to the Court and the Justice, could you let me know the address and the best way to address the delivery so it gets to the proper place.

Second, we had a lot of staff assisting on our end for the visit and they did not get the lovely one-on-one time that I was fortunate to get. I was thinking of purchasing them out of my own personal funds a small memento to thank them all for their hard work in making the visit a success. Last year when Justice Sotomayor visited, I was able to purchase her book and her staff was great about having her sign a books. I know Justice Kagan does not have a book published but I was wondering if there was a way I could purchase an photo of her or another item that she could sign. I would happy to pay for the items and the shipping. Any thoughts or ideas about this are welcomed.

Thanks again for everything you did. I really enjoyed working with you and hope our paths can cross again in the future.

Dear Kat,

Thanks so much for writing. Sorry to be slow getting back to you, but figuring out what the academic calendar is going to look like in three years turns out to be harder than I thought!

Here are some possible dates for us to schedule a visit:

Oct. 12-13, 2017 (our preferred date)
Nov. 9-10, 2017
Oct. 26-27, 2017

These are Thursday-Friday dates. The Saturday dates following the first two are home football games, and the Justice would be very welcome to stay and join us for the game in the Chancellor's box.

Let me know if any of this might work. And thanks for bearing with us!

Have a nice weekend,
Margaret

Kat, my apologies, but this time it's me who needs to rethink the schedule. We're going to have one of the Justice's colleagues here in September, as it turns out (that date was just confirmed yesterday), and I don't want to steal her thunder. Any chance we could do a spring date—either 2016 or 2017—or push back till fall 2017?

Let me know your thoughts. I'm sorry to throw a complication into what I'm sure is a challenging puzzle.

Thanks and best wishes for the holidays.

Dear Kat,

We've checked our schedules and it looks as though the dates you suggest in 2016 are pretty open. For us, if it's possible, a Thursday-Friday would be the best. We could do Sept. 22-23,

Sept. 29-30, October 20-21, or Oct. 27-28.

The last date, Oct. 27-28, would be our Homecoming and a donor event; it's a big and busy two days here if she'd like that; if she prefers a less frenetic visit, the other dates would be better. The advantage of our Homecoming weekend would be that if the Justice would like to stay over till Saturday, she'd be welcome to join us at the football game, a big day for the Law School. (The law students run across the field wearing hats and carrying canes, which they toss over the goal post; a successful toss and catch supposedly means they'll win their first case in practice.) Here's a link to NCAA.com's coverage of it:

<http://www.ncaa.com/video/football/2014-10-17/traditions-wisconsin-badgers-cane-toss-law-students>

Justice Kagan would be welcome to join, though not required to do so!

Let me know if any of those might suit the Justice's schedule or, if not, what might work better.

Many thanks,
Margaret

Dear Kat,

Thanks so much for following up. Friday 9/1/17 would work beautifully for us. I do want to make sure the Justice knows that it's Labor Day weekend. That is not a problem for the Law School, but I want to make sure she knows she's giving us a holiday weekend. And you're quite right that 9/15 is not a home game. (9/1 will be, quite honestly, a home game with an unimpressive opponent, but Big Ten football is fun regardless.)

If this still works, let me know. I'm copying Jini Jasti, my Associate Dean, who will be our liaison on the visit.

Many thanks! We're excited about this visit and delighted that we may be able to find a date that works.

Dear Dean Raymond,

Thank you so much for your patience. We're ready to schedule Justice Kagan's visit next fall. I'd like to propose Friday 9/1 or Friday 9/15 for her visit. The Justice would ideally fly in the evening before, spend the next day visiting campus, attend a football game on Saturday, and return to DC either Saturday or Sunday (depending on flights). I don't see a home game listed below for Saturday 9/16 so I assume they are away that week. If that's the case, would you like to schedule on Friday 9/1?

Please feel free to call me in Chambers to discuss. I can be reached at [REDACTED]

Dear Kat,

I wanted to follow up with you about finding a date in fall 2017 for Justice Kagan to visit our law school.

As she noted in her email, she's interested in coming for a football game. So I think that means she'd do visit here on a Friday, and stay for Saturday football. Our home game dates for fall 2017 are below. Some of the dates conflict with the Jewish holidays, so we thought either Sept. 8-9 or October 20-21, if they suit her schedule, might be best. If not, let's touch base and see if any of the other dates might work. I offered basketball, but she quite sensibly prefers not to travel to Wisconsin in February!

Let me know if there's more you need from me. Many thanks, in advance, for your help.

Yours truly,
Margaret Raymond

The fall football dates for 2017 are below –

- September 2nd /Utah State
 - Labor Day is the 4th
- September 9th /Florida Atlantic
- September 30th /Northwestern
 - Yom Kippur
- October 14th /Purdue
 - Shmini Atzeret is the 12th
 - Simchat Torah is the 13th
- October 21st /Maryland
 - Most likely going to be Homecoming but not confirmed.

Dear Dean Raymond,

Thank you for your email. Let me consult Justice Kagan's calendar and the draft calendar for the 2018 Term and get back to you. Justice Kagan is traveling for the next few weeks, and I should be able to get an answer in early September.

All the best,

Kat

Kat, thank you! We're delighted we could find a mutually convenient date and very much look forward to the Justice's visit.

My colleague Jini Jasti is likely to be the person managing logistics. I am copying her on this email to put you both in touch. You should feel free to keep me on all the emails as well, and if there's anything you need as our plans move forward, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Thanks so much for your help. Stay safe in the snow!

Dear Dean Raymond,

Thank you for your patience. Justice Kagan would like to schedule her visit to the University of Wisconsin Law School on Friday 9/8 and attend the football game on Saturday 9/9. Ideally, the Justice will fly to Madison the afternoon of Thursday 9/7 and spend all day Friday 9/8 at Wisconsin Law. She'll attend the football on Saturday 9/9 and fly to DC sometime that evening. If it's a night game, Justice Kagan will depart on Sunday 9/10.

Please feel free to reach out with details and logistics later this spring. Justice Kagan is looking forward to her visit this fall.

All the best,

Kat

Dear Kat,

It took some sleuthing, but we are assured that the 9/1 game will be an evening game. No kickoff time set yet, but if the Justice were willing (and wanted a long day), we could do her program during the day on the 1st and she could attend the game afterwards. If she'd prefer a less grueling schedule, we'd be delighted to have her arrive on 8/31, perhaps do an evening program and an informal morning event for students on 9/1, and then give her a break before the game.

What I'm trying to say is that we'd be happy to accommodate whatever would be most convenient for her. Let me know what you think that would be and we'll go from here.

Many thanks!

Hi Dean Raymond,

Happy New Year! I know we're holding Friday 9/1 for Justice Kagan's visit, and I just looked at the football schedule and it seems there's a football game on Friday 9/1. Should we move her visit to the day before? Do we think it will be a night game? What are your thoughts/recommendations?

Thanks Dean Raymond. Let's tentatively hold 9/1/2017. Would Friday 9/14 also work for you? I know there's not a football game but it would be good to know on our end. I will double-check with Justice Kagan since 9/1 is Labor Day weekend. I should have an answer by the end of the week.

Dear Kat,

Thanks so much for following up. Friday 9/1/17 would work beautifully for us. I do want to make sure the Justice knows that it's Labor Day weekend. That is not a problem for the Law School, but I want to make sure she knows she's giving us a holiday weekend. And you're quite right that 9/15 is not a home game. (9/1 will be, quite honestly, a home game with an unimpressive opponent, but Big Ten football is fun regardless.)

If this still works, let me know. I'm copying Jini Jasti, my Associate Dean, who will be our liaison on the visit.

Many thanks! We're excited about this visit and delighted that we may be able to find a date that works.

My best,
Margaret Raymond

Hi Maggie – I thought I had already agreed to do this. I think when Sonia accepted your invitation, you asked me to postpone, and I said yes. Or at least that's how I remember it. September/October is best for me; I haven't looked at the schedule, but is it possible to do it in connection with a football game? I know, basketball's your real sport, but I'm not enthused about coming in February!

Give me some dates that might work, and we'll arrange. I'm cc'ing my assistant, Kat Lindsey. Hope you've had a good summer. All best, Elena

Dear Elena,

Hope this finds you well and enjoying a little down time. As we busily plan to have one of your colleagues here this fall, I wanted to write and say how much we'd love to have you visit. You'd agreed, but we had trouble finding a good date. Let me know if you're still willing and we'll get back to work on finding a good time. We can do whatever you like: big event, small event, Q&A, lecture, whatever you prefer. (Basketball season, while not the best weather here, might be fun for other reasons).

Hope you've been out of DC lately—sounds like it's been nightmarishly hot.

We're doing fine.

Please do say yes, it would be fun to have you here.

Best,
M

You're so nice to think about this like a dean! It would have been wonderful, but my staff assured me that it is so hard to get around that weekend that we would wind up having alumni who would really want to see you who would miss the chance for lack of a parking space. (And they'd wind up mad at us about it.).

If your assistant can find us a date, we can make your visit the main attraction. I know you're very booked, and I Hope everything is going well. I will be in DC in Sept. for the LSC anniversary festivities, if you are around.
